A Prayer for others...

In our relationships with other we live in a series of concentric circles, some people very close, others further away. Let us pause for a moment to think about the various people in our circles...

At the centre circle, alongside us, are the people with whom we live day by day, or if we live alone, the people we see most often. Who are they? What do they most need? Pray for God's blessing on them today...

In the next circle are friends and members of our family whom we feel close to even though we don't see them as often. Where are they? What do they most need? Pray for God's blessing on them today...

In our next circle are people we see in our daily lives, our neighbours, people at work, people we speak to but, perhaps, don't know very well. Who comes to mind? Pray for God's blessing on them at this time...

In the outer circles are people whom we know through circumstances in our lives, either personally or through previous contact. They have a place in our lives. Who comes to mind? Pray for God's blessing on them and their lives.

In the outer circles also we have the people we do not know personally but who step into our thoughts through the news, media outlets and other forms of engagement. Sometimes the circumstances of their lives arouses us to compassion for them in their struggles. We pray God's blessing on anyone in need at this time.

Gracious God, thank you for the many people who are special to us in our circles of relationship. Thank you for all they give or have given to us, in love, friendship and shared experience. May your blessing be with them this day; never let them slip from your gracious hand and your circle of love.
