Reflection....

Loving God, we thank you for the relationships that feed grace into our lives, the people we can rely on implicitly, who love us and cheer us on. May we return love for love, life for life, and cherish those very special close relationships.

Loving God, we pray for those who are struggling with key relationships, especially for those relationships where love seems to have lost the will to live. Give them grace to renew the relationship or, if necessary, grace to fail—for you always desire love that lives, not love that has died. Please comfort, heal, restore or release—whatever is best and true.

Loving God, open our hearts to new relationships and friendships. Prevent us from turning inward and cultivating only what's familiar and comfortable. Help us to receive everyone we meet as Christ, and to enjoy the richness of other lives and stories. Help us to set aside prejudice and see Jesus in every neighbour.

Loving God, you have made us to live together in community. No one is an island, entire of itself: we are all "a piece of the continent, a part of the main". We pray for the community in which we are set physically, and the various communities of which we personally are a part. In all we say and do, make us a community of grace.
